Abilitas Foundation collects medical information relating to applicants to determine if the lodge is equipped in a manner that is suitable for the applicant and in order to determine whether other guests with differing disabilities could reasonably stay at the lodge at the same time as the applicant. All medical information is held in strict confidence by Abilitas Foundation but sometimes we may share a limited amount of information with other guests who attend the lodge to ensure bookings are compatible. We will contact you before we disclose any information to another guest to discuss our disclosure with you.

Please bear in mind that it is the intention of Abilitas Foundation to provide overnight accommodation at the Cold Water Ranch Lodge to people with severe disabilities. For questions, call Arlene Schouten at (604) 556-0681 or Meredith Holmes at (604) 854-1720.

POLICIES AND GUIDELINES:

Upon arrival, if the nature of the applicant's disability is not consistent with the information provided on the booking eligibility application, Abilitas Foundation reserves the right to review and revoke booking privileges.

Whether a child is restricted in any of the activities of daily living will depend on the child's age and expected development. The age is relevant, since a two-year-old child (e.g.) would not be expected to dress without assistance.
